Gleichen Canadian Legion Makes Fraternal Visit

Gleichen Branch of the Canadian Legion made their first fraternal call on Strathmore on Monday, November 6th, and the occasion was made an outstanding event. Over sixty sat down to a splendid repast provided by the Entertainment Committee under the chairmanship of Comr. G. L. Morris and McGregor. The speech making was confined to the toast list. After the customary toasts to fallen comrades and His Majesty made by the president, Comr. G. F. Kearns on being called upon to welcome the guests, mentioned that the Gleichen Branch were at having this first official visit, emphasized the virtue of comradeship, and looked forward to this call being the forerunner to many more. The president of the Gleichen Branch responding, spoke of the honour he felt; recalled the early days of the district, and told some very humorous anecdotes of old times he had known.

The secretary of the Strathmore Legion, Mr. W. H. Keoma, The Legion's drew attention to how well the organization had gone over, and dwelt on the fact that it was the duty of every member to forge it further ahead. Comr. Loran, Secretary of the Gleichen Branch, followed up the toast list, and said that when we had gone "over the top" as one unit in the days of war, and it was up to the comrades to co-operate and do the same in peace days. The heavy work of the Legion was done by Comr. Lewis, who rose to the occasion and delivered an inspiring address when called upon to propose the toast to The British Empire. The Empire, he said, was one we could all feel justly proud of, and he called upon us to be a colonial organization, and become part of the greatest soldier empire movement ever known. He laid stress on the need for pressing for legislation to have Armistice Day kept on November 11th, and that we must do this without pause, and continue until this was done, a remark which drew great applause.

Comrade Dunn in replying appealed to members to think and act in empire rather than colonial terms, for only under such conditions could the empire prosper. The lighter side of the evening was made bright by the largest aggregation of talent that has ever graced the Gleichen Canadian Legion, gathering at the place at which they gathered, while G. H. Patrick's Scotch songs were best described as a scream. Comrades Lewis, Moss, and Bremer gave their best in a song line from Gleichen. Comr. Keoma, Thomas, G. L. Morris, and Comr. Loran, their wives, and others doing their bit for No. 10.

The Choral Society had better look after their laurels for the community singing brought forth some real heat, and when the competition got at least in volume a motion to have the pictures taken from the walls before the next effort will be quite in order for they won't stand another. The Ladies' Aid and the Ladies' Sympathy departure of the visiting comedies at midnight did not break up the party; those remaining worked their exuberance of spirit in staging a star square dance, music provided by Comr. Anderson and Bremer.

Comrade Tierney gave an unsurpassed performance of the "Spanish Dancer" and the audience was most appreciative. The ladies' Aid and the Ladies' Sympathy departure of the visiting comedies at midnight did not break up the party; those remaining worked their exuberance of spirit in staging a star square dance, music provided by Comr. Anderson and Bremer.

Comrade Tierney gave an unsurpassed exhibition of the terpsichorean art in a solo dance. It took the main hall to contain the others.

The successful evening is one of many planned, but this one will take some beating to exceed, however the entertainment committee have made their motto "Bigger and Better" and have always exceeded expectations.

American Opinions Expressed about Western Canada

Last year a number of American editors of farm journals toured Western Canada. These men are expert observers, hence, their opinions, which have been published since their return, may carry conviction to those who are considering moving to this country.

Mr. Seator writes: "I realize that I have not seen Canada in two weeks, or covered half her territory. But I am sure that the general impression is that our neighbor to the North has well laid the foundation of a great country. The prevailing spirit of cooperation has already eliminated many of the disadvantages of pioneering in a sparsely settled country. All the difficulties of the frontier are of the right kind. The resources are there. "No one could ride through the Canadian mountains without being profoundly impressed with the beauty and the grandeur of the natural scenery. And have seen our own where country changed from grain to diversified farming with good homes surrounded by trees. I could see the future of Canada as a more settled country. The two countries are almost identical."

Canada seems to be far-sighted in the matter of taxation and transportation, both of which are important especially for agriculture."

EDWARD SECOR,
Editor, "The Farmer"

Mr. Alan C. Fisher hopes to again repeat the trip, and has vision of the future development. He says: "Western Canada is a great country, an American country. The Americans who have first tried to make a living in Winnipeg to Vancouver, and return does not find so much difference from his own north west, but he will find for the first time what a vast agricultural area Canada is, that the American who has been to Europe and the Orient will not yet touch. If I live to make this trip twenty or thirty years from now I shall expect to see the vacant lands occupied, the chief cities more than doubled in population, and greatly increased manufacturing. It is indeed a great country."

Climbing a Hill One Thousand Miles Long

Climbing a hill one thousand miles long is one of the tests which General Motors engineers now can carry without unduly fatiguing the strength and stamina built into the machine.

In effect, this is the test which the Chevrolet is undergoing at the General Motors extensive testing ground, 1225 acres in area.

A "towing dynamometer" is the machine used to duplicate the terrific draw encountered by an automobile motor in ascending a steep hill. It is mounted on a frame, almost exactly the stress of an uphill climb.

The dynamometer is mounted on a chassis to be towed behind the Chevrolet car undergoing the test. Weights on a scale beam control two large brake drums on the chassis through which a cable is wound, applying pressure on the drums through a series of gears. The scale can be set to reproduce a grade of almost any degree through pressure on the drama.

Today the prospective car owner will have to pay the price of an experimenter in trying out products of General Motors. Experienced engineers in the proving ground have every modern facility at their disposal to test all devices and methods suggested by the manufacturer of the vehicle cars. Other American and foreign cars are also "put through the grind" there. Any changes contemplated for the Chevrolet are paid for months or years before final adoption.

DIED THURSDAY MORNING

On Thursday morning when the funeral service was held for Mr. Edmund, only son of W. G. Kavett, expressions of genuine sympathy for Mr. and Mrs. Kavett in their bereavement, were most general.

The lad who was but nine years of age, had died at about 10 p.m. on Wednesday.

Dr. Griffen diagnosed the case as meningitis, and reconning the serious illness, asked for a consultation with Dr. Merritt, a specialist of Calgary; he said the combined skill of the two physicians proved without avail, and the little fellow passed away on Thursday morning.

At the public school deceased was a very bright and promising scholar, and a popular with his teachers and classmates.

The funeral will be conducted by Mr. C. W. Chase, and will take place at 2 p.m. at St. Michael's and All Angels Church at 2 p.m., and the interment will take place in the Strathmore cemetery.

MANY FARMS WILL BE IN GOOD SHAPE

EDMONTON, Alta.—Marked improvement in the financial affairs of a good many Alberta farmers who have been in debt for some time past will be reported in the fall of this year and the assistance rendering them under the provincial government's debt adjustment scheme.

Z. Z. Johnson, manager in charge of the administration of the act says that a considerable number of debtors whose cases have been dealt with during the past year or two, will be able to clear themselves this fall and to make a fresh start, owing not a dollar to the banks.

Some of these debt adjustments have been made on a compromise basis, the creditors agreeing to settle with part payment. In a number of cases the debtors have been enabled to pay their debts off in full, which is something to be desired. The operations of the adjustment scheme have extended to all parts of the province.

Alberta Government Will Operate Their Railways

In an official statement issued this week, Premier Brewster of Alberta announces that the Government will take over and operate the Edmonton Dunvegan and B.C. Railway, into the Peace River country, commencing November 11. The operating agreement under which the C.P.R. has been operating the road expires on November 10, under the three months' notice given by the Government last August.

The announcement is made at the same time that a traffic agreement has been signed by the Government with the Canadian National Railways, whereby the C.N.R. will handle all traffic from the E.D. and B.C. and for that line, under which agreement the present freight rates now enjoyed by the residents along the line will be continued. The agreement also provides for the C.N.R. to maintain a National Railway depot and terminals for the trains of both the E.D. and B.C. and the A. and G. W. lines. John Callaghan, Deputy Minister of Railways, was named general manager of the road.

Under the new conditions, the Alberta Government is sole owner and operator of the E.D. and B.C. and is in a position at any time to enter negotiations for an outright sale of the road, should it desire to do so. The latest offer of the C.P.R. for the franchise of the line made only this week, and which was $80,000 better than previous offer, was rejected by the Government, which was opposed to giving up the line under any further agreement, and is in a position to be free to negotiate the sale of the road if thought desirable. The Premier states in his official announcement that the Government has confidence in the railway department's ability to operate the road at an operating profit.

BANTREE

Baintree folk voted the Hallowe'en party given last Thursday by the Community Club one of the best ever. The program started with apple bobbing and ducking, for the children, who surely earned the chocolates they received later. Musical arms for the older people followed. The prize for this game was won by Mr. Leonard Hilton and John Cameron motored to Calgary last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurston and family were weekend visitors at the home ranch.

Abe Walker had a rather bad scare last Wednesday evening. While on his way home, a bunch of loose horses ran over the grade in front of his car. Abe thought he had the steering wheel when actually he was overtaking it. The windshield was smashed, but Abe escaped any personal injury. Fortunately he was driving alone; otherwise his attention might not have been on the road ahead.

Mary Bellinger of Strathmore, was the weekend guest of Florence Harriman.

Miss Viola Busch and the Misses Maudie and Marjorie Shaw, of Calgary, spent their holidays with the home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Dahm, of Rockyford, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Mrs. J. J. Johnson.

James Whitehouse is spending a holiday moose hunting west of Innisfail.

Mrs. Harriman received work on Monday of the illness of her mother in Calgary, and left on the evening train to be with her.

The management of the U.P.W.A. last Friday night was a decided success. Many beautiful and odd costumes were in evidence. The judges of the evening were Miss Hughes, and Mr. Sid Moore. Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Roost, of Ardenode, and Mr. Ferguson of Nightingale. Mrs. Thurston, of Calmar, was a Spanish lady, was awarded first prize, and Mr. Harry Thurston first gentleman's prize as a Spanish gentleman; Sid Griffin as "Miss 1927" was the prize for the original costume. Sid makes a bushy flapper. Ted Howie, of Ardenode, and Incidentally an acquaintance of mine, was the comic prize, as the funny coat. The music was first-class and the crowd was gay. The very best appreciate the programme of those present, no family album was ever enjoyed more.

This act was followed by an amateur contest, won by Mrs. Jacobs and Mr. Waters. Community singing was next in order, then pumpkin pies, doughnuts, coffee and apples, and finally an hour or two's dancing which brought to a close a most enjoyable evening.

The Advantages Presented of Tractor Farming

The following article was published in the Farm Implement News, of Chicago, and present some very convincing arguments in favor of tractor farming.

Modern labor conditions, with the substitution of mechanical power for hand labor. Larger machines have done their share to reduce the cost of production.

The tractor is the natural answer to the problem of future labor problems.

The tractor, with its great economy and its adaptability to all kinds of farm work, will help farmers of the United States keep the standards of living up to the profit side of the ledger.

With the present comparative low price which the farmer receives for his produce, he must lower his cost of production enough to swing from the loss side of the ledger to the profit side.

The only way that he can do this is to increase the amount of power used in farm production.

Every neighborhood has a progressive farmer who farms his 300 acres and uses power instead of man or mule to do his work.

The problem of earning a "comfortable living and 10 per cent" is that of doing more work with the same amount or even less labor than formerly. What is the answer to this problem? Successive nations have seen in every farming community in agricultural America, and the answer is cheaper power in the form of the modern farm tractor.

W. E. Grinnell, Professor of Agricultural Economics, Kansas State Agricultural College says: "More efficient production of farm products rather than legislation is the most effective means of improving the income of the farmers".

The most efficient production is that which requires the minimum amount of labor.

This most efficient production can be attained in practically every case only by the use of the tractor.

The tractor enables the farmer to operate more and larger machines with the necessity of hiring extra help.

The tractor enables the farmer to farm his ground in such a way as to get the maximum return. Using horses, the farmer cannot plow his ground properly because of the lack of animal power. Very little of the ground is plowed by horse power is plowed deep enough to insure the maximum crop yield.

Prof. W. W. Burr, head of the Department of Agriculture at the University of Illinois says: "Farmers generally have not plowed as deep as they should have plowed. On the lighter soils adapted to the growing of small grains, and under dry conditions we recommend a plow depth of 5 inches.

On the average I would say that tall plowing is as good as early as it should be. The earlier prepared preparations usually gives the higher yields."

The tractor with a power take-off is especially coming to be recognized as the most efficient and economical way of using the grain binder and corn picker with the tractor. It enables the tractor to be used on ground that is not causing the draw to the tractor. With a power take-off the tractor does not have to furnish power to operate the machinery through the drawbar.

Next to the self-binder the tractor has proven to be the biggest labor saver that the world has yet seen.

The self-binder saved the world from starvation, the tractor will keep the world from going hungry in the future. It has taken the place of 10,000,000 agricultural workers in the last fifteen years and has increased production at the same time.

The tractor, with its adaptability to work of many different kinds is cheaper than horse labor. Even if horse power was as cheap as tractor power, the many advantages of the latter, such as increased farming capacity, best work, more power, less labor, and better work would throw the advantages to the tractor. But figures show that the tractor, when properly used, is cheaper to operate than horse power.

Another of the cheaper cost of tractor power is the fact that the tractor sets the land necessary to raise the feed for the horses. The land set free can be used to raise more crops or used in the production of more meat. The tractor is a machine which can increase the farm income. Two milk cows can be kept on the land that was necessary to feed one work horse.

Time and money. The truth of this saying is proved time and again.

It is the farmer who always helps his work done on time, and as a result raises the best crop. No time out of ten this farmer uses a tractor. Why?

The tractor enables him to do more work in the same time, by using more power, and by working longer hours in the field.

Duplication of work is cut to a minimum when a tractor is used. If the spring is late it is very important that the crop be put in as soon as the fields are in condition. The tractor is a valuable tractor is able to put his crop in half the time that his neighbor can with his horses.

These few days in the spring often means the difference between a good crop and a fair failure.

With a tractor a farmer can raise more grain and a fairer quality of grain than with horses.

In the spring time, has to be done a great deal of work in order to leave the ground in the best condition.

Spring plowing should be harrowed and sown the same day that it is plowed in order to prevent the ground from getting dry in back of the tractor.

With a tractor that has, in fact, can all be done in one operation.

The tractor enables the farmer to raise more crops and still further reduce more of the crop raised to be used for seed. The farmer can plow before he gets the horses and mules set free to raise grain for sale or stock feed. Every horse less on the farm means that two cows can be put on the same land, and the present market value of animal products this is an advantage no one can overlook.

The tractor is especially well suited to the farmer who does not "keep all of his eggs in one basket" but who follows the plan of diversified farming.

The raising of cattle, hogs and chickens are all things that can be kept.

Something that will help all in your winter's activities.

The tractor is especially adaptable to the scheme of crop rotation, thus keeping the land in a high state of cultivation.

With the use of the tractor, the farmer can increase in other animals usually raised helps maintain the fertility of the land.

The tractor is doing what machinery has done in every line of work, lightening the load of labor, increasing the profits and making them more sure.

With a modern tractor in his field, the farmer will strive to make the most of his equipment and increase the value of his farm.

With his load of work, the tractor will have time to enjoy the things that really make life interesting and worth living.

CANADIAN POPULATION HAS INCREASED
SEVENTY-FIVE PER CENT

The population of Canada, is now estimated at 8,641,000; in 1901 it was 5,384,000. Thus in the last twenty-five years there has been seventy-five percent. In the first decade of the century the increase was thirty-four per cent, the fastest rate of growth of any country, that of France being twenty-eight per cent, that of the United States, but twenty-two per cent. On top of this, in the second decade, the rate was again the fastest—twenty-two per cent—as compared with Europe's one per cent, and the United States' fifteen per cent.

DALEMEAD*PILOT LIGHT JOTTINGS

The following line of news and notes were rounded up, and are now being broadcasted, so that you might get an idea just what is going on in J.U.F.A. circles, and within the ranks of the club right here.

Saturday, November 20th, has been selected as the date for the Dalemead their next district meet. The convention will be held in the Dalemead Community Hall, and will open at 10:30 sharp. It should be the aim of every junior member, to be a real booster, and then come out a hundred per cent strong.

One of the finest features of the last convention was the very colorful spirit displayed by everyone present. The most outstanding idea of the best part which the members may claim from another, discuss Junior U.P.A. matters with the next fellow, and know one another, and their organization better for it.

Additional the cheaper cost of tractor power is the fact that the tractor sets the land necessary to raise the feed for the horses. The land set free can be used to raise more crops or used in the production of more meat.

If the Sunnie Jun or whose string of pearls unstring on the sidewalk of Strathmore fast July has the same accident, or any other lady for that matter, they will find a squad of girls waiting to go fishing with him.

Newcomers comes from the Ardenwood locality that they are coming over, all of them, Good for the Ardenwood Juniors.

There will be lots of community singing, so begin tuning up your vocal machine now, and get it in good working order.

A convention program will appear in the next issue of the Strathmore Standard.

John and Charlie Hornstra made a round of the locals last Sunday, and found them all in good shape.

The J.U.F.A. District Convention is primarily within the Pipe Light District Association, but the members of the local unit were to forget that it is a league for young people as well.

For the aim of the U.P.A. is to develop closer unity between groups. Thus all those interested in young people's work come. Your cooperation will be cordially accepted. There will be good speakers, stories, and singing.

Something that will help all in your winter's activities.

Let's all be boosters. The association officers can't do it all. Do your share—it will be worth the while.

The address by Dr. Giffen on "Emergencies and Slight Aliments" intended to take place on Friday of this week, has been postponed until further notice.

Harry Miller is a very popular member of the Town Council and though exceedingly quiet in public places, he likes to drop in upon his neighbors for a little chat. When he called at one of his favorite places a few nights ago, he was much upset to find a sign at the door with the words "CLOSED". Miller said that he had been thinking the matter over very seriously, endeavoring to decide whether these words were a suggestion or a command.

Mr. F. Holmes, of Clareholme, was born in 1868, having old acquaintances. Mr. Holmes, who is an old time resident, has a very soft spot in his heart for Strathmore. He tells a very good story of two of his friends, who were brothers, and who came to Canada a little while back, and his own son finally landed in the hands of the police. He was broke and sent for his brother, who came for the trial, at which the delinquent was penalized $5. He not only paid the fine but left another $10 on deposit, remarking as he made the deposit: "Oh, Bill won't want to repeat."

The first service in recent years for the Lutherans in and near Strathmore was conducted on Saturday afternoon at Hirte's Theatre. On Wednesday night, about 1:30 o'clock, one of the guests at the King Edward Hotel sounded the fire alarm ringing all around the guest. It was soon discovered that a fire had started in the kitchen of the hotel. Mr. McMillan and one of the staff by making prompt use of the "fire fighting shirt" together with a "little diploma" soon had the conflagration under control so that when the fire department arrived the work was almost completed. The "night shirt brigade" was most interesting, and Jack Allen gave an excellent demonstration of fast foot work to the Town Park, where he conducted his toilet. The cause of the fire cannot be located, and the damage done was very little.

The turkey supper held last week under the auspices of the Ladies Aid was a resounding success, attended by about 400 after dinner expenses. The ladies desire to thank all those who in any way helped make the evening a success.

The girls of the Golden Key Club entertained a number of members of the church with a program of music and sketches, the decorations of black cats, pumpkins, etc., and the mellow lighting by the golden harvest moon made a fanciful setting for ghosts and witches. Dozens of apples festooned across the room, some hanging from strings, a tub of water, the fortune telling were all sources of amusement. Taffy apples on a stick, a nut scrubber, and a few games completed the evenings entertainment.

Miss Frieda Schmidt, accompanied by Elva Schumann spent the week end in Calgary.

Some time ago, when Harold Smith, of Carseland, was a young man he made a practice of spending his vacation with a farmer friend. One day in a moment of weakness he offered to do a little work. Before doing so he placed a coat and vest on a chair in the house.

A ver prominent Holstein calf took quite a fancy to the vest and cheved up the pocket in which reposed Smith's "Ingersoll" watch that he had won as a special prize for good service at school. He prized the watch very highly as it was the only prize he ever won at school.

Last week the Holstein, which had long since developed into a matronly milk cow, was sold to a butcher.

The animal was slaughtered, and a position between the lungs of the animal that the respiration had kept the steer winder wound up, and the watch had only lost four minutes in all these years. Smith's voice from the farm said, "I don't care if such an adolescent, not trifling with hearts or some such sort of stuff."

Jim Wels says he knew an automobile who held out her hand to assist him for a left turn, and when she reached the intersection she made a left turn.

Fred Nye (excitedly): "Hello! Hello! I want to speak to my wife."

His wife, however, please,"

Fred Nye (indignant): "Number? Ain't got but one."

"Did any of your ancestors do things to cause me to remember them?" he asked the Calvary 46.

"I remember they did," replied Bill Tierney. "My grandfather put many crosses on his Amprion farm that aren't paid off yet."

Dear Old Lady: "How do you like school, my little man?"

The Little Man: "I like it closed, lady."

Mr. Reellinger: "This vacuum flask will keep things hot for you indefinitely. I can very highly recommend it."

Customer: "No, thanks, I married someone else that day."

Teacher: "I take pleasure in giving you 81 in mathematics."

Student: "Make it 100, sir, and thoroughly enjoy yourself."

Asgeric: "While you're asking papa for my hand, I'll play something lively on the piano."

Billy: "I'd rather you didn't dance, you know some people can't keep their feet still when they hear lively music."

Agent Perry: "I would be surprised."

An old maid, visiting on a vacation, and being asked what she thought of the town, said, "It's nice, but I don't know what was wrong."

"Oh," he replied, "I've felt a little 'Well,'" she remarked, "that meansna brother yea. You've felt a fee mony a time."

"Aye," he said, "but I've been found out this time."

Passenger: "What makes this train so slow?"

Train man: "If you don't like it get off and walk."

I would, only 'm not expected in until the train arrives."

It is an age of progress, and Tong Grogan says the husband of today now has a new way of getting into trouble. It is by cutting his wife while shaving the back of her neck while she is sleeping.

"When does a baby begin to think?" asked a writer.

"Well, most of them begin to think when you ought to play the floor with them when they are a week old."

Mysteries of the Night: Out on the stillness of the night a sharp report rang, followed quickly by another and still another and then more. What do you think it was? Just a Carradale sheet and his Shubie saying good-night.

Frank Miller complained that he had a splinter in his finger that was very painful.

Grandmother: "How did you like that jar of marmalade I sent you?"

Grandson: "Why, that was marmalade! I've been using it to stick stamps in my album."

He: "People are saying you married me because I had money."

She: "Nothing of the sort! The reason was that I had no money myself."

Bob Anderson remarks that grooms are peculiar chaps. They don't get mad if you kiss the bride, unless it happens some time before the ceremony.

Tony Grogan, the stately old gentleman who peddles refreshments for a living, has quite a pleasant mind when in repose. When in town last week he was thinking about modern youths, and warned them all against apprentices. 65% of which he claims the records will prove will wind up in divorce, or at least separations. He offers young men the following suggestion: "Be being timely."

Do not trifling with hearts or some such sort of stuff."

FARMERS' WIVES
REQUIRE A LOCAL RESTROOM

Last February the Standard published an article suggesting that a rest room for farm ladies and children was very badly needed in Strathmore, and that it would be profitable business to provide such a place.

While the suggestion has not been adopted, it is heartily condemned by a few, it seems that but little progress has been made.

The Municipality of Bow Valley have offered to make a grant of $50 towards sanitary conveniences, but the Standard cannot see that a capital investment of this amount, which represents an annual contribution of about three dollars would be of much assistance.

The Strathmore Council offered to erect sanitary conveniences in the park if Bow Valley would make an appropriation for regular maintenance and care.

While public sanitary accommodation is no doubt very convenient for transient people, they do not in any measure make up the lack of a Rest Room for the farm ladies and their children.

When a farmer's wife comes to town and makes her purchases at the stores, which, on the average, will not occupy but a very limited time, she has no place where she can get a rest, and meet her friends and acquaintances.

The merchants are only too glad to have them remain in the store, but the fact remains that when they have completed their purchases, they do not tarry long.

The farm wives were provided, together with sanitary conveniences, and a few papers and magazines added, the farmer's wife would not find the time dragging when friend husband was delayed a little while while he settled his account and down at the barber shop, garage, etc.

The farm women would have an opportunity of meeting their friends in congenial surroundings that would carry with it all the attractions of an old time quilting bee.

Many of us would feel that the town is organized for men, hence the tendency to remain at home, and the purchasing of their meals.

Times have changed since the farmer's wife supplied her household demands by trading butter, eggs, etc.

Merchants spend hours and hours planning to make conditions trading attractive, in order that the trading business may be retained at home, but the particular feature of providing accommodation for Rest is practically neglected.

Some advance the argument that even cities like Calgary make no effort to meet such conditions, but they overlook the fact that the particular emphasis of the commercial store furnish such accommodation, and, it might be added, that the reason that these firms do so is because it PAY'S in good cold simoleons. No one would suggest for a moment that there is any sentiment about a "Women's Rest Room".

The suggestion is not made that such a service should be supplied by any one firm, but the Standard does maintain that the services should be supplied in one place, make Strathmore trading point in which the farmer's wives will want to busines.

Would it not be possible to secure a suitable building, the rental of which could be provided jointly by the Town Council and the Bow Valley Municipality, with the care and management provided by the Women's Institute?

The Standard is quite convinced that if this organization would take hold of this matter, that it would be handled to the satisfaction and benefit of all concerned.

Let the Women's Institute take hold of this work and solve a problem that has baffled our municipal legislators, and show them that they are "more men".

XMAS SHOPPING
SHOULD BE AT HOME

The merchants for months have been purchasing suitable Xmas goods and among these dealers you will find that you can make selections that will be much more satisfactory than through the plan of buying "sights" seen through the mail order catalogues.

If there is anything that you have specially in mind that is not carried in stock, anyone of the merchants will be only too glad to secure the article that you require.

In co-operation with the local merchants you are enabling them to run their business, putting them in a position to give you the very service that you anticipate from the mail order houses.

The merchants take the major portion of the profit that they make when you buy it in your own town, helping in a hundred ways to make the community better and more attractive to you.

The town in which you do your trading is only as good as your desire to make it and you never can bring about a better town than by spending your dollars away to help build up another community through which you are unable to receive any benefit.

If you give the master distributor, there can be no other consideration than that of sending your money away that indirectly you are really building up a greater handicap for yourself than you are for the merchant!

Everyone should be loyal to their own town. Start this year by making your Xmas purchases at home.

BLESSED ARE THE PEOPLE WHO CO-OPERATE

Blessed are the merchants who advertise because they believe in it and in their business; for their prosperity shall increase many fold. Blessed are the correspondents who send in their well-written items every week, the farmers who are the backbone of the town, blessed is the woman who sends in a written account of a party or wedding, for she shall see the details of the function and the names of her guests correctly reported. Blessed are those who do not expect the editor to know everything, but who call up and tell him whenever an interesting event occurs to them, for they shall have a newer name in their town. Blessed are they who get their copy in early, for they shall occupy a warm place in the editor's heart. Blessed are those who co-operate with the editor in his efforts in behalf of the community, for their town shall be known far and wide as a good place in which to live.
